PARLAYS PLANE PERMIT

Centralia, Ill., Nov. 5—(AP)—A Centralia hunter parlayed his private pilot's license, a plane flight and his shotgun into the fullest first day of duck hunting the law allows.

Cliff Boles spent Thursday flying over duck haunts along the Kaskaskia river bottoms. With three companions Boles returned yesterday—the first day of hunting season—to the bottoms he had reconnoitered. They came home with four ducks each—the bag limit for a day.

A 'BAD' PENNY?

Chicago, Nov. 5—(AP)—Five year old Billy Kurtenbach, Jr., of Harvard, Ill., got his penny back yesterday but it took some doing. State police rushed him from his home 90 miles to the Illinois Research Hospital. Doctors removed the penny—from his throat.

He was resting comfortably last night, the hospital said.

IT'S LOVE-LOVE-LOVE

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 5—(AP)—Love is wonderful (and sometimes profitable) department:

David Scott, 24-year-old sailor stationed at the Great Lakes, Ill., Naval Training Station, and his girl friend, Mamie Lee Adams, 23, of Waukegan, had a knife-wielding spat. The sailor got nicked a few times.

Both appeared before Police Magistrate Bruno Stanczak last night and were found guilty of disorderly conduct. Stanczak, apparently softened by love, said:

"Personally I feel that you should each pay $200 and costs but since this is a love affair I fine you each $50 and costs."

NICE ACT, EH?

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 5—(AP)—A Decatur sister act with months of advance bookings is doing a land-office business here.

The sisters aren't entertainers. They're wallpaper hangers.

Inez and Helen Widick started as paperhangers when their father, also a decorator, became ill 25 years ago. They have been at it ever since.

They carry their equipment in a trailer behind their automobile. At work, each wears a uniform she made herself, consisting of a one-piece blouse-and-culotte, plus a large apron.

They saved for years to get a collapsible paste table with metal cutter, and they built their own stand for a bucket to hold tools.

Helen does the pasting and Inez puts the paper on the wall.

They usually can finish the ceiling of an average room in an hour.

One Out of Seven
Seeks Unemployment
Money in Illinois

Chicago, Nov. 5—(AP)—Unemployment compensation has been sought by half a million Illinois wage earners since April 1.

Frank Annunzio, state labor director, said yesterday this means one of every seven workers with wage credits under the state job insurance law has been out of work at some time during the past six months.

Annunzio made the report at a meeting of Illinois employers, the Employers' Institute on Unemployment Compensation.

Cleveland, Nov. 5—(AP)—Delegates to the CIO convention realized today the job of amputating their rebellious left-wing was far from ended.

The convention, before adjourning last night, had tossed out two unions under leftist leadership—The United Electrical Workers and the Farm Equipment Workers.

The two unions, with a combined membership of about 470,000, merged last week but were thrown out of the CIO for continued defiance of major policy.

The convention chartered a new union to compete with UE.

The CIO, now definitely in the right-wing column, nevertheless may use considerable time to dispose of ten other unions headed by men accused of following the Communist party line.

The CIO executive board met today to begin work on the problem.

The convention handed the board the question of the eligibility of the men selected by the ten left-wing unions to sit on the board under the amended constitution.

Barred From Committee

The amendments bar Communists or their sympathizers from seats on the 51-man board, and authorize the board to expel any unions whose policies follow the Communist, Fascist or other line in conflict with CIO aims.

CIO President Philip Murray allowed no leeway in the case of Ben Gold, head of the Fur and Leather Workers. Gold never has hidden his affiliation with the Communist party. In fact, he has paraded that connection before his fellow CIO officials.

Murray banked his gavel yesterday and announced that Gold just wasn't eligible to sit on the policy-making executive board because of his party card.

With the nine other union heads believed to follow the party line, it wasn't so easy. Each one was challenged by a spokesman for a right-wing union, and Murray referred each one methodically to the executive board.

Board May Act

At first Murray indicated that the issues would be fought out at today's session of the executive board. But later he told the delegates the board would act on the issues at an early date.

The 63-year-old Murray, elected to his tenth term as president of the CIO, promised officers would carry out the convention's program.

Twins In January, Triplets Nov. 5 For Georgia Wife

Atlanta, Nov. 5—(AP)—Twins last January 16 —

Triplets this morning — "Gosh, I hope there are no more any time soon," said Mrs. Thelma Gibbs, 27, of Atlanta.

She was feeling fine, though, after giving birth to three girls. Each, as yet unnamed, weighed a little more than three pounds.

Her sister-in-law kept the twins when Mrs. Gibbs went to the hospital last night.

She has four other children by a previous marriage. They live with her parents.

Her husband is a parking lot attendant.

Baby Is Kidnapd from Its Cradle as Mother Looks on Utica, N. Y., Nov. 4—(AP)—Six-week-old Stephen Komorek, son of a $100-a-week mill worker, was kidnaped last night by a man in a black coat, the infant's mother reported.

Mrs. Henry Komorek said a man with a hat down over his eyes stole the baby from his crib near the kitchen stove in their modest home in suburban Clayville. The couple's only other child, a seven-year-old son, was struck and killed by an automobile four years ago.

State Police broadcast an alarm and patrolled roads. Woods near the village were being searched.

The 29-year-old mother told a reporter she didn't "know of any reason for the kidnaping."

"The only possibility would be a money angle," she said. She added that she and her husband "have a new 1949 Pontiac and it has been rumored that we have money."

Komorek, 34, "averages $100 a week in wages" as a machine tender at a paper plant near their home.

Mrs. Komorek said she did not recognize the man who, she reported fled with the child in a black sedan. She described him as of normal height and weight.

She said she had fed the baby shortly before 11 p. m. and had put him in his crib. She then lay down on a couch in the parlor to await her husband's return from work. He was on the 4 p. m.-to-midnight shift. She left the kitchen door unlocked for him.

Intersection Crash Critically Injures One, Hurts Three

Kankakee, Ill., Nov. 5—(AP)—Four persons were injured last night in a collision at the intersection of routes 52 and 45 between Kankakee and Joliet.

Werner Carl Stroh, 26, of Chicago, was in critical condition at a Kankakee hospital with multiple injuries. His wife, Ann Jane, 22, also was injured and reported in fair condition. Their daughter, two and one half year old Pamela, suffered a broken thigh and head injuries.

The driver of the second car, Harley E. Miller, 45, of Kankakee, suffered head injuries. He was charged with failing to heed a stop sign.

Flu or No Flu, Mrs. Hadley to Wed Veep

St. Louis, Nov. 5—(AP)—A touch of flu and need for some rest put Vice-President Alben W. Barkley's fiancée in the hospital yesterday.

But the wedding of the 71-year-old Barkley and Mrs. Carelton S. Hadley is still set for Nov. 18.

Mrs. Hadley's mother, Mrs. Etta Rucker, said "the telephone and the door bell have been ringing almost constantly since plans for the wedding were announced."

Anti-Gambling Laws At Springfield to Be Enforced, Report

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 5—(AP)—Sheriff Meredith Rhule yesterday issued written orders to deputies for "strict enforcement" of anti-gambling and anti-prostitution laws.

The Sangamon county sheriff said his action was prompted by rumors that enforcement would be slackened as the 1950 elections approached.

Guilty Verdict In Auto Theft By Chicagoan

A Lee county jury returned a guilty verdict yesterday against Michael Griffin, 17, one of a Chicago quartet charged with stealing a car in Dixon, Aug. 15.

His companions, Vernon Tracy, Charles Walker, and Thomas Joyce, will be tried next week.

Griffin was not sentenced. Circuit Judge George C. Dion decided to dispose of all the cases after the last of the quartet has been tried.

Just before the jury returned its guilty verdict, Griffin took the stand in his own behalf and said he had no intention of stealing a car in Dixon. (Yesterday, Griffin's confession was admitted into evidence, and in it Griffin said he and his friends stole the car so they could get back to Chicago.)

Assistant Police Chief Frank Tyne testified yesterday afternoon that Griffin told him the group planned to steal the car.

The car was owned by Charles July, Amboy.

Two Deaths on First Day of Hunting Here

Chicago, Nov. 5—(AP)—The hunting season opened in Illinois yesterday with two mishaps taking the lives of two hunters.

Al Grant, 71-year-old Chicago cabinet-maker, suffered a heart attack as he sat in his boat at Grass Lake near Antich. He fell overboard and his clothing caught on the boat, holding him underwater.

Linden Reed, 31, of Grand Ridge (La Salle county) drowned in Illinois river near Starved Rock dam after he and another Grand Ridge man, George Yednock, tried to retrieve decoys which broke loose. The men were about 100 yards off shore when their boat began sinking. Both held to the boat, but Reed lost his grasp and slipped from sight. His body was not recovered.

Two other men rescued Yednock.

Carl Buchner of Dixon has been pledged to Chi Beta Phi social fraternity at Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. A freshman at Coe, Buchner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Buchner, Jr., 112 East Fellows street.

Steve Christ, also a freshman at Coe has been pledged to Delta Phi Epsilon social fraternity. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Christ, 121 1/2 First street Dixon. Both were graduated in June 1949 from the Dixon high school.

Japanese Scientist Wins a Nobel Prize In Atomic Physics

Tokyo, Nov. 5—(AP)—Japanese chests swelled today over the news that Dr. Hideki Yukawa had been awarded a Nobel prize for contributions to atomic physics.

Japanese in all walks of life got a tremendous lift from the announcement just as they did when their swimmers set new world's records at the National Amateur Athletic Union championships at Los Angeles last summer.

Wilcox Jewelers to Close Monday, Due To Kucera Death

Wilcox Jewelry store, 110 Galena avenue, will be closed Monday in honor of Joseph Kucera, who died yesterday in Oak Park hospital, and who was the father of Elizabeth Wilcox.

He is also survived by his widow, Evelyn, and another daughter, Margaret Collidge, New York.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 o'clock in Oak Park Episcopal church.

Truck Tires Filled With Water Make Good Riding

Liverpool, Eng., Nov. 5—(AP)—The trucks of a cartage firm here are rolling on water instead of air.

T. Beard, the firm's chief engineer, said he began experimenting with water-filled tires a year ago and "the results are excellent."

"Our drivers have sent glowing reports of the way in which their vehicles ride comfortably at all speeds," he said. "So far we have had no punctures. The tires can go for as long as six months without any maintenance."

Beard began his experiments in an effort to combat wheel spinning and skidding, cut down tire wear and improve braking on the firm's 70 heavy trucks.

He fills each back tire with 20 gallons of water and adds calcium chloride as an anti-freeze.

TO BECOME SECOND LADY—This is the first formal portrait of Mrs. Carlton S. Hadley to be released since she announced her engagement to Vice President Alben Barkley. The couple will be wed in St. Louis, Mo., on Nov. 18.

Wa-Tan-Ye's 'New Eye' Fund Rises $118; Total Now $277

Wa-Tan-Ye's drive to furnish Dr. Lois Weber with new eyes rolled up $118 today, bringing the grand total to $277.

Those who contributed today in an attempt to compensate for the activities of a local dog-poisoner—a killer—were:

W. C. and Anna Dysart Fund, $25; Edward Valle Clothing company, $5; Gracey Fur Shop, $10; B. F. Shaw Job-Printing Employees, $4; Emory Bahr, $1; Anonymous, $5; B. J. Frazer, $5; a friend, $2; White Top Cab company and employees, $5, and a friend, $5.

The leading donation in the last twenty-four hours was a $50 gift from Klein and Heckman.

Both the sponsoring of and the contributing to the "New Eye" fund were spontaneous.

When Dr. Weber lost her sight for the second time, sincere citizens banded together to right a wrong. Someone suggested a financial campaign to replace Annie—Dr. Weber's temporary lease on sight — almost immediately after the dog died Sunday of poison administered Sept. 8.

No sooner had the suggestion been mentioned than calls started coming into the office of The Telegraph asking where contributions could be sent.

Wa-Tan-Ye went into action. Club officers and members moved swiftly and decided that they, as a civic group, would sponsor new eyes for Dr. Weber.

The effect was a warming one. When Annie was poisoned, the story went out on the national wire of Associated Press and was told to the world.

Newspaper readers the country over forgot the story soon afterward. Wa-Tan-Ye, and all those who have given something to the "New Eye Bank," didn't.

Those who wish to contribute to the "New Eye" fund may do so by calling the officers of Wa-Tan-Ye. They are Dorothy C. Otis, president; Ethel Buchner, vice-president, and Olive Reed, secretary.

All work in the office of The Dixon Evening Telegraph and can be reached at any time during the day.

Iranian Premier Assassinated at Religious Service

Tehran, Iran, Nov. 5—(AP)—Former Premier Abdul Hussein Hahzir died today from an assassin's bullet. He was shot last night after a religious ceremony at which he was representing the Shah.

Following the shooting, police arrested a man they identified as Hussein Immani. The motive for the shooting was not announced.

Is Considered A Major Break In Big Strike

Action Is Hoped For in Coal, Too

Washington, Nov. 5—(AP)—A major new break in the steel strike seemed imminent today, while the government stepped in as peace-maker between John L. Lewis and the still-unbroken front of soft coal mine owners.

Republic Steel Corp., the nation's third biggest steelmaker, made 54,000 workers a pension offer in Cleveland. The CIO United Steelworkers' district director there did not disclose the terms but said:

"With CIO President Philip Murray's approval, we'll accept it." The No. 2 producer, Bethlehem Steel, settled early this week. Washington officials predicted that if "big steel"—United States Steel Corp., and its subsidiaries—gets into line, the back-to-work march quickly will become nationwide.

One of Pennsylvania's major producers, Lukens Steel Company, reached an agreement with the union at Coatesville early today. Workers began filing back to their jobs. Lukens employs some 5,000 men.

There were stirrings on the coal front, too. Cyrus S. Ching, tireless chief of the Federal Mediation Service, called southern operators here Monday to "explore all the angles" for settlement of the 48-day coalfield shutdown.

U. S. Action Probable

A hint of possible sterner federal action came from the White House party which returned with President Truman last night from his speechmaking trip into the chilly midwest.

Mr. Truman, some associates said privately, soon will make a final decision on whether to go to court, under the Taft-Hartley injunction procedure, to force a resumption of coal-digging. The president himself would not talk about either steel or coal.

Mediator Ching promised to "pursue this thing as long as there is any use." The implication was: After that, it will be up to Mr. Truman.

Lewis had some irons of his own in the fire, but they did not look hot. His proposal of yesterday for separate negotiations with Illinois operators—or with Illinois and Indiana mine owners jointly—was turned down promptly.

Justice Thompson Opposes More Power For Supreme Court

Chicago, Nov. 5—(AP)—Chief Justice Charles Thompson of the Illinois Supreme Court last night opposed any expansion of supreme court power through "constitutional interpretations."

The Harrisburg, Ill., jurist addressed more than 750 Illinois lawyers and judges at a dinner meeting of the Illinois State Bar Association.

"Under the guise of interpreting the constitution, the supreme court can make itself arbiter of government policy in direct competition with the elected representatives of the people," he said.

Justice Thompson said "this clearly is an invasion of legislative function, and it is not the purpose for which the high court was intended."

Drunken Hunter Terrorizes School Children with Gun

Keisterville, Pa., Nov. 5—(AP)—A hunter whose blazing shotgun terrorized 200 school children was today awaiting a hearing on disorderly conduct and possibly other charges.

The man staggered up to the graded school in this little western Pennsylvania community at noon hour yesterday. He threw himself on the ground and aimed his shotgun at the building.

Mrs. Cott Deal, a teacher, took one frightened look and called the youngsters—6 to 11 years old—into the building.

The hunter, identified by state police as John McKulka, 25, of Keisterville, fired a charge into the side of the school. Then he rose and forced his way into the building, falling down once as he crossed the playground.

Inside the building, he lurched from room to room, waving his shotgun. Children screamed and fled the building through windows and down fire escapes.

Three men living nearby overpowered the intruder.

The CAMEO

By Virginia Teale Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: A valuable cameo in the possession of Nell O'Neill has been turned over to Martin Pfeiffer, a Russian collector, artist, and now Nell must get it back. She has a chance to sell it to Andrey Yakov, a Russian collector, artist, and now Nell must get it back. She has a chance to sell it to Andrey Yakov, a Russian collector, artist, and now Nell must get it back. She has a chance to sell it to Andrey Yakov, a Russian collector, artist, and now Nell must get it back.

ANDREY YAKOV was Tom O'Neill's latest trophy for his creative people collection. He had met Yakov at the local art gallery and had bought him home to exhibit at Nell and the pseudo-Bohemians and artists who usually were clustered around the O'Neill liquor cabinet. The bold oils Yakov had shown as his had been slavishly received by Tom and his satellites.

Yakov turned his head slightly and smiled at Nell. "I have heard from many people about this wonderful warm coast where fellow artists." His narrow mustache curved genially. "Like you and your husband. You were of the ballet, were you not?"

"Not exactly. I did a kind of interpretive dancing. American, you know."

"But your mother? She was a Russian ballerina?"

"How did you know that?"

"Did you not tell me? Or our good Tom, perhaps?"

"Oh, I guess it was Tom."

Her mother's talents were the one thing she'd been able to throw back at him when he jeered at Nell's dancing years. He'd said, of course, that he didn't believe her story, but evidently that hadn't prevented him from raving to Yakov about it. Perversely, now, Nell felt cheated. She had looked forward to making quite a fabulous tale out of it.

Andrey interrupted her thoughts:

"Nothing's broken," he announced.

Hagar moved backward, stooped and retrieved the box.

"May I look now, if you please?" Yakov extended his hand.

Arnold looked confused. With an almost mechanical gesture, Arnold placed the pin in Andrey Yakov's palm.

Stephanie stepped forward with a gesture of protest. Yakov's eyes challenged her, she paused, and he deliberately turned his back on her and bent over the jewel he held.

Nell grasped his elbow and whispered urgently: "That's it! That's my cameo!"

Arnold scrambled to his feet. "I heard you, Nell O'Neill. You're lying—that cameo belongs to Martin Pfeiffer."

She whirled on him with a venomous glance: "It belongs to me!"

"But I am going to buy it," Hagar interrupted. "So, it's as good as mine."

WHEN Yakov gave Nell an encouraging nod, she drew herself up to her full height and said: "It's my cameo. I may sell it, or I may not. And, if I sell it, there are several interested buyers."

Arnold Pfeiffer, with catlike swiftness, snatched the cameo out of Yakov's open hand. His eyes flashed defiance above his trembling chin and he darted over to stand behind Hagar.

She reached around and gave him the box.

Yakov's first movement was an involuntary one of pursuit, but he seemed to change his mind and now stood quietly.

"We must decide who is the owner before we decide who will be the buyer. I am speaking frankly, Miss Blair, when I say that I intend to be the buyer!"

"No!" The word came explosively from Stephanie.

Yakov turned to her with an attitude of polite interest: "The young lady says 'no'?"

Hagar gave him a triumphant smirk. "The young lady says 'no'. And the old lady says 'no'. The cameo has been offered to me at a price. I have an option on it, you might say."

Nineteen-Year-Old Bride Is Confused--For Good Reasons

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A 19-year-old girl asked superior court yesterday to decide: (1) whether she is married; (2) if so, to whom; (3) annul it.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Joan Shetler Henry (or is she Miss Joan Shetler?) said there are two Neil Edwin Henrys in her life and that both of them have to get out. One of them wants out.

In her suit, the girl said she met Thomas L. Henry, 17, last spring at a roller rink, but that he told her his name was Neil. They fell in love and were married in July.

There was no trouble about obtaining a wedding license, she explained, because Thomas has a certified birth certificate in the name of Neil which showed him to be of legal age, 21.

Then, last month, another Neil Henry was discharged from the merchant marine and came home. He was not pleased to learn that his name had been removed from the list of young bachelors by the use of his birth certificate. He insisted that the marriage be annulled.

Joan agreed that all the confusion did not add to her peace of mind either. But Thomas said he still loves Joan and hopes everything will be straightened out just right.

was the cause of the alarm but no damage was done.

Scientist Tells of Three Obstacles to Outer Space Travel

Baltimore—(AP)—Man's desire to roam about outer space and explore heavenly bodies will remain a songwriter's fancy for a few years, says Dr. Ralph E. Gibson, director of the applied physics laboratory of the Johns Hopkins University. Dr. Gibson cites these obstacles to inter-planetary travel:

1. You would need a rocket ship weighing about 10,000 tons—the weight of a light cruiser—to carry a payload of 50,000 pounds. 2. You would need fuel tanks a quarter of a million cubic feet in size and would have to carry 8,000 tons of fuel, probably liquid oxygen. 3. You would have to start with a velocity of 36,000 feet a second in order to get shot out of the field of the earth's gravity.

Dr. Gibson's laboratory has been experimenting in guided missiles at the government's White Sands (N.M.) testing grounds.

One of the first demonstrations of color television was presented by the Bell Telephone Laboratories June 27, 1929.

Bored with Home Life, a Young Wife Slays Husband

El Paso, Ill., Nov. 5.—(AP)—A 36-year-old mother who shot her husband to death testified last night that as she leveled a shotgun at him she warned: "This is what you had coming to you."

Mrs. Vera Saggerman made the statement in testimony at a coroner's inquest into the death of her husband, John, 43. He died of a shotgun blast in the couple's home early yesterday.

The woman told the jury that her husband would not allow her to go anywhere, see anyone or have any company and that she decided to shoot him when he refused permission for her to attend a high school football game.

She related that she had asked about going to the game. "He sneered at me," she added, "and I said 'well, here I don't go again,' and I decided to shoot him."

State Patrolman Myron Everett said that when he arrived at the Saggerman home the woman told him "I've been imprisoned for 19 years and now I feel free."

Saggerman was an employee of the Caterpillar Tractor company at Peoria.

The coroner's jury recommended that Mrs. Saggerman, mother of three, be held to the grand jury. She is held in jail at Eureka without charge.

Mrs. Rafferty Will Speak at Annual Meet

The 20th Annual meeting of the Lee County Home Bureau will be held in the Methodist church, Dixon, on Nov. 15th. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the meeting will come to order at 10:00 a.m. There will be election and installation of officers for the coming year and also at this time the past presidents will be honored. Organ music and group singing will start off and intersperse the morning reports by the county executive committee. Rolland Callison will render music on the morning program also.

Luncheon will be served at noon by the ladies of the church. All reservations must be in by Nov. 8 to the Lee County Home Bureau office, Amboy.

Mrs. Blanche Rafferty of Canton will speak on "Human Relations can Help or Hinder". Mrs. Rafferty comes very qualified to speak on her subject. She has been a former home adviser and specialist in our state and several others in the field of Family Relations and Child Development.

Roll call of units, the awarding of Blue Ribbon Units and Trophy will conclude the main activities of the day.

Units are reminded that a special award is being arranged for that unit having the greatest percentage of their members present at the annual meeting.

All home bureau members and guests also home advisers of other counties are invited to help the Lee County Home Bureau celebrate its 20th anniversary.

Oregon Church Wedding Scene

Oregon—Estelle Mae Morehouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delos Morehouse of Oregon, wore a gown of white satin and lace for her wedding to Robert Michael Gartner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gartner of Mt. Morris. The Oregon Methodist church was the scene of the Saturday 3 p.m. double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Edwin S. Hunt.

Mrs. Chester Landers of Oregon was organist and William Morehouse, brother of the bride of Oregon, was soloist. Palms, candelabra and baskets of white chrysanthemums decorated the church.

Has Pink Orchid

The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore a lace trimmed veil held in place with a crown of seed pearls with her satin gown. She carried a bouquet of white pom poms centered with a pink orchid.

Wearing a gown of baby blue satin was the maid of honor, Miss Sylvia Reed, Oregon. She carried a bouquet of white pom poms and ivy. Mrs. Earl Blevins of Mt. Morris and Miss Kathryn Gartner of Mt. Morris, sister of the groom, as bridesmaids, wore peach satin gowns and carried bouquets of white pom poms.

Christian A. Ulrich of Chicago was best man and ushers were Michael A. Ulrich, Chicago and William Incontro, student at the University of Illinois, Champaign.

Gerry Kay Seibert, flower girl, wore a gown of baby blue satin and a wristlet of flowers.

The bride's mother wore a forest green dress and green accessories and the groom's mother wore black accessories with her grey dress for the wedding. Both wore white gardenia corsages.

Reception at Church

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony. Mrs. Harley Ware of Oregon poured; Mrs. Willis Clampland of Oregon, cut the cake and Miss Jane Thurm of Oregon had charge of the guest book.

When the newlyweds left on a short wedding trip to Chicago the bride was wearing a dark green two piece dress with black accessories and a pink orchid corsage. They will reside in Oregon.

A graduate of the Oregon Community High school with the class of 1949 the bride is employed by the Oregon Manufacturing company. The groom who is a graduate of the Mt. Morris high school with the class of 1945 is employed at Kable Brothers company, Mt. Morris.

MAGGIE BOOSTS GIRL SCOUTS—Film star Margaret O'Brien receives the thanks of Mrs. C. Vaughan Ferguson, of New York, national president of the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A., for her work in a short movie titled, "Come Along With the Girl Scouts." The film, now being shown nationally, is a plea for volunteer adult leaders for Girl Scout troops.

Lois Hinkle Of Amboy Is Party Honoree

Amboy—Miss Lois Hinkle of Amboy, who will become the bride of Gene L. Gascoigne, also of Amboy, on Nov. 26, was honored at a pre-nuptial shower recently at the John Miller home, Amboy. The hostesses were Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Joseph Lynch, Miss Mary C. Jackson of Harmon and Miss Dorothy Harrison, Sterling.

At the beginning of the evening, Lois was presented with an orchid from the hostesses and from each guest their favorite recipe. The main attraction of the evening was a mock wedding. Gift cards read from: Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Joseph Lynch, Mrs. Harry Gascoigne, Mrs. Albert Gascoigne, Mrs. Glenn Searis, Mrs. Lyle Gascoigne, Mrs. Earl Gascoigne, Mrs. Charles Mead, Mrs. Alvin Glenn, Mrs. Margaret Hinkle, Mrs. James Gorton, Misses Mary Jackson of Harmon, Betty Morrissey, Nadine Haefner, Beverly Strouss, Betty Powers, Charlotte Bothe, Mary J. Panelli, Ruth Donnelly, Dorothy Harrison and Allan Miller of Amboy, Mrs. Fred Hamburg of Dixon, Misses Eileen and Frances Dewan of Chicago.

To Europe

Mrs. Edward J. Kelly, nee Marie Kaecker, who was a recent visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kaecker, Ashton, left by plane Saturday, Oct. 15, for Europe to make a 40-day tour of inspection for her husband who owns a travel service. Mrs. Thomas Armbrust of Chicago visited the Kaeckers with Mrs. Kelly. Mr. Kelly will operate tours by ships and air to Europe next year and Mrs. Kelly will conduct one of the tours. Her itinerary will cover Italy, Switzerland, France, England, Ireland, Spain, Portugal and Canada.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapters Enjoy Banquet

A Hawaiian theme prevailed at Jul's Danish Farm Thursday evening when Gamma Mu chapter of Dixon and Zeta Chi Chapter of Sterling-Rock Falls of Beta Sigma Phi sorority gathered together.

When the Pledge Ritual was given with the Sterling-Rock Falls chapter in charge the following Dixon girls received it: Zoe Ann Bazley, Gilda Bevilacqua, Martha Cies, Marilyn Cooper, Phyllis Egler, Doris Heckman, Anita Hopkins, Julia Loftus, Gerri Meinert, Alice Oltmans, Helen Rohr, Ruth Salverson, Margaret Ann Sharkey, Lois Smith and Mary Lou Smith. The following Dixonites received the Ritual of Jewels with the Dixon chapter in charge: Dorothy Gorham, Julia Amell, Leona Hahn, Marnell Minnihan and Pat Ommen.

Music for the formal banquet was furnished by two of the Sterling-Rock Falls members and by Marilyn Cooper of the Dixon chapter. Mrs. Barry Lennon, honorary member of Gamma Mu chapter, was a guest.

Loveland House Is Busy Center

Dixon's Loveland Community House at 513 Second street was a center of activity during the month of October with a total attendance of 4,312 people. Highlighting the calendar at the busy center were 114 meetings of various groups.

Wedding receptions, private parties, conferences, business meetings, civic group meetings, the northern regional Woman's club conference, Delta Kappa Gamma conference, weekly dancing classes, numerous dinners, a floral arrangement class, home bureau and 4-H group meetings and concerts and a music course were among the appointments in the Loveland center's date book. Busy days are enjoyed at the house which is open six days a week from 8 a. m. till 5 p. m. and many nights.

Mrs. Mary Downing, director of the Loveland Community House, predicts a full schedule for the month of November with such popular events as the fall production of the Dixon Community Players and the Presbyterian Eazaar as the beginning.

Many visitors to the Community House have and will take the opportunity to visit the Lee County Historical Museum which is on the top floor.

Bet You Don't Know This About Advertising
by Susan

Answer: It costs less than 1/2¢ a pack to advertise the big brands of cigarettes. That's only half the story. Advertising lowers your cost two ways:
Cuts the selling costs. And by helping make mass production possible, lowers the production costs, too.
So advertising saves you many times that 1/2¢ per pack.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

As the soul is the life of the body, so God is the life of the soul. As therefore the body perishes when the soul leaves it, so the soul dies when God departs from it.—St. Augustine.

Loyal Americans

Last Thursday evening Republican precinct committee men from Lee county, and Republican leaders from this area met at a dinner at the Dixon Elks Club as guests of Lee County Republican Central Committee Chairman H. C. Warner and they heard an inspiring address on politics and patriotism and national welfare from Earle Benjamin Searcy, whose message should be heard by every voter in America. And not only heard, but heeded.

Searcy, a veteran of the Illinois senate and a leader in Illinois politics for many years, is a good man. He has a good brain and a conscience and is fighting for the preservation of old fashioned American freedom which right now is in greater peril than most of us realize. As he points out, the Communist goal, the destruction of capitalist America and the taking over of this country by the Kremlin, is best reached according to Communist teachings, by higher taxes on industry and capital, centralized government and dissipation of American wealth by the sort of vast government expenditures at home and all over the world now being enthusiastically carried on by the Democratic administration at Washington.

Mr. Searcy is a candidate for the Republican nomination for re-election to his present office, Clerk of the Illinois Supreme Court. He should be re-elected. It would be fine if we had more men in public office that approached the calibre of Earle Searcy.

Congressman Leo Allen from this district, whose splendid record in Washington makes it imperative that he go back to congress to represent us, made a brief talk about the danger of the continuance of the present regime in Washington. No one is better qualified to give this warning. Congressman Allen knows what he is talking about.

Another speaker who lent a great amount of color and interest to the program was William H. Stuart, veteran newspaperman, who was a political writer for the Chicago American for many, many years, and who has covered Springfield and the general political field for upwards of forty years. Sagacious Bill Stuart who now publishes a weekly news letter called "Heard and Seen," a widely read little newspaper full of interesting political news as well as wise and timely observations by the publisher, and a page written by his talented and lovely wife, Mary, is always worth listening to. He is the author of an extremely interesting book, "The Twenty Incredible Years," which deals with Illinois politics. Stuart's intimate knowledge of things political, his lifetime of close contacts with politics and his agile and canny Scotch mind make him a clear thinker and a frank and honest and blunt reporter of facts. He bores quickly through to the core in his analysis of a public or political problem.

Inexpensive, disposable oxygen masks are now available for airplane passengers in emergencies when a plane rises to unexpected high altitudes to pass over a storm. Because never re-used, they will never require sterilization.

A fine mist of water and oil is sprayed on cotton during ginning to prevent the development of static electricity which seriously clogs machinery.

Shadow photographs made under the powerful magnification of the electron microscope can now be used to measure tiny electrical or magnetic fields. The new photographs will show the direction and strength of the fields of the minute "atomic magnets" within magnetic materials.

Iceland is one of the most volcanic regions of the earth, with activity continuous from the formation of the island until the present.

Fanny Brice to Renew the Role of Baby Snooks Again

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 5 —(AP)—Next week a 58-year-old grandmother resumes her impersonation of a seven-year-old brat.

This sort of thing has been going on since 1912, when Fanny Brice first dreamed up Baby Snooks. It is likely to continue as long as there is breath in the famed comedienne.

Miss Brice seems resigned to a life with "Snooks," as she calls the radio moppet. I mentioned that her fans would also like to hear some of her wonderful routine of yore.

"How about another show? I hear they're dragging out the Zigzag Follies again."

"They would have to drag me back there to do it," she replied. "I would never leave California willingly."

Television? "Maybe yes. But I wouldn't do it the way it's done now. No one can put a different show on every week and keep it good. If I did it, I'd rehearse a show carefully, then put it on three or four weeks—the same show—every week. That way everybody would see it."

That leaves her with Baby Snooks, who has been in vaudeville in 1912. It started as a parody on a pampered movie child. One night she was forced into entertaining at a party. She did her whole routine in the baby talk she used in the movie baby number and it was a howl.

She did the character off and on for years and in 1937 put it on the radio. Miss Brice was off the airways during last year's radio upheaval. She used the time to give birth to an autobiography. "It's an amazing experience," she said. "It's like being psycho-analyzed. There were days when I felt very sad. And days when I felt very happy."

She promises to tell all in the book, including her feelings about her two husbands.

About Billy Rose, she told me: "He comes out all right in the book. Mainly I say how smart he is."

About Nicky Arnstein: "I thought I would have a lot to say about Nicky. But it just ended up with the fact that I loved him."

IN HOLLYWOOD

By

Hollywood — (NEA) — After all the trouble, look what mb all that trouble, look what happens:

Nine-and-a-half-month-old Stephen Bogart took one look at that Panda bear pappy brought home from New York, started to bawl and hasn't touched it since.

The Bogart dog is now chewing on it between meals.

Bogie just started his new picture, "In a Lonely Place." It's about a film writer who was a big shot before the war but who can't seem to get going again. Backgrounds will be shot all over Hollywood.

Gloria Graham plays a doll familiar at Hollywood night spots—no visible means of support, just a smart girl on the town. Bogart finally kills her when he finds out she's leaving him.

As producer Bob Lord explains the story, "It's a writer's angle on 'A Star Is Born.'"

Alice Faye, I hear, is softening in her attitude about film retirement. Fox has been trying to get her back into greasepaint for years with no luck. Now she's willing provided hubby Phil co-stars with her. Fox could do worse than starring the two in a family comedy.

Plenty of talk about M-G-M trying to woo Betty Hutton away from Paramount when her contract expires. Betty, I hear, is willing. Metro has promised her everything except L. B. Mayer's bank account.

STAR ATTRACTION

Well, it finally happened. Popcorn is taking over a theater.

A Daily Variety dispatch from Milwaukee:

"Which comes first, the picture or the popcorn?"

"Management of Milwaukee's Towne Theater has decided in favor of the latter as the best come-on for customers. They've torn out two rows of seats in the rear of the theater to make room for a new refreshment stand. It's pointed out that when the picture lags the customers can admire the stand and its animated display of bubbling popcorn and illuminated beverage displays."

It's only a matter of time, kids, before the popcorn poppers get screen credit, too.

Latest definition of a square: The guy who takes his girl to a drive-in and then sits there and watches the picture.

Annabella will make her permanent residence in Hollywood starting the first of the year. Maybe that's why Ty Power and Landa Christian are talking about living in Mexico.

It wouldn't be funny except that it happened to dignified Sir Cedric Hardwicke. He called a taxicab to pick him up from a location set on "The White Tower," the mountain-climbing story. The taxi cab driver arrived early and watched Sir Cedric's last scene—a quick shot of him hoisting himself over a ledge on a rope.

As Sir Cedric got into the cab the driver, with a blank expression said:

"You ain't the new TARZAN are you?"

$625 PER LINE

Bing Crosby sings just four bars of "Night and Day" in "Mr. Music." Paramount had to pay Cole Porter $2500 for the rights. At this rate, if Bing sang the whole number, the studio probably would go broke. . . . Richard Robert, who clicked for Warners in "Task Force," will marry Norma Bratton, a secretary at the same studio. He's waiting for his divorce first from Mary Hay Barthelme.

Another suspension at Warner Brothers.

Jean Crawford's French poodle, Chequet, has been barred from the set of "The Victim" for a week for spoiling a scene. No, the dog hasn't issued any statements.

Mario (The Body) McDonald is forsaking movies for her first love—singing. She's open for nightclub engagements. It could be that Janet Blair's success on the road and in New York had something to do with Mario's decision. . . . Gracie Fields is back in town after a three-year absence. There's a film deal cooking.

A Los Angeles orphanage turned down the application of Andy Russell and Della Norel, who wanted to adopt a baby. Final decision came after they examined their night-club singing schedule for the next year and found they would be spending very little time at home. . . . Nelson Eddy wires that he has not been offered the road company lead in "South Pacific."

Admiral Denfeld's Dog Nips Guest; New Styles Slow Up Norse Architects

Washington—(NEA)—The night Admiral Denfeld was ousted from his job as chief of naval operations many friends came to call at his home and sympathize. There was confusion in the living room and during the excitement the admiral's dog, Frisco, nipped one of the guests. Denfeld asked a servant to put the pup outside. The servant obliged but gave the dog the following admonishment in a very loud voice:

"G'wan outside. If you must nip somebody's heels, find Secretary Matthews and bite him."

The place rocked with laughter for five minutes.

Cart Before the Horse

At a recent meeting of farm leaders in Washington a noted social scientist predicted that at the rate they were going now, U. S. farmers would all have radios and mechanical refrigerators before they all got running water, telephones and bathrooms in their homes. This was attributed to the postwar buying habits of the American farmer.

Norse Women Puzzle Architects

Gilbert S. Underwood, a top government architect, has just returned from a series of conferences with European architects, partly in connection with the Marshall Plan. He reports that a Norwegian public building designers are faced with a brand-new problem caused by the new Paris dress styles. It has become the fashion for Norse women to carry their dresses to parties, the theater, or restaurants, and put them on after they arrive.

It's so cold outside the women have to wear several layers of woolen undies. But these undies don't look good under the latest style dresses. So at their destination they park their longies while they wear their dresses, and then change back when they leave.

Problem for the architects is to provide dressing rooms for this new custom. The conventional powder rooms aren't large enough, Underwood reports. He's glad Washington has a warmer climate, what with the new styles becoming popular here.

Lawyers' Delight

An editorial in the United Mine Workers' Journal takes a dim view of the new 75-cents-an-hour minimum wage law. It says:

"At first reading it appears that it should be labeled 'the 1949 lawyers' employment act' since, in the long run, the revised legal aspects of the law may enable lawyers to collect an amount equal the estimated $300,000,000 accruing to workers."

Spreading Out Tourist Trade

Uncle Sam is conducting a big drive to encourage American farmers to go to Europe for their vacations. One such tour by U. S. farmers was arranged last year and turned out to be a big success. Reason behind the plan is the fact that farmers don't take their vacations in the summer time. Government hopes to reduce the highly seasonal aspect of U. S. tourists going abroad, for the benefit of the Marshall Plan countries.

Clipping VA Wings

After Congress thought it had liberalized the provisions of the GI bill to permit more veterans to take flight training, a Veterans Administration official boasted that the new provision could be administered in such a manner that it would actually tighten the veteran flight training program. And that is exactly what has happened. The first full month that the so-called liberalized changes were in effect there was a cut in the number of applications which were approved by the V.A. For the month of September there were 3756 applications, with only 48 per cent approved. That was a substantial drop below previous months.

Air Force Trying to Cut Costs

It's expected that some time in 1952 the Air Force will give up all of its primary pilot training and turn it over to private schools under contract. During the war private schools gave young pilots their first flight training for about $9 an hour. Cost when the Air Force does it is between $25 and $50 an hour. Several possibilities are being discussed. One plan would leave deactivated Air Force fields for this purpose to the private schools. Another plan would let private schools use their own facilities and expand them if necessary with the help of government funds. Still another possibility would be to sell deactivated fields outright to private schools for the training program.

Economy is the goal. Whichever plan figures out to be the cheapest will be adopted. Private schools have made their reports on how this could be handled and are carefully refraining from lobbying the issue, in spite of the fact that the extra business would be a great boon to them.

Fruit Essence Business Should Boom

Department of Agriculture experts predict that fruit-flavored foods will soon become more tasty. Reason is a change in alcohol tax laws to permit manufacturer of fruit "essences" without payment of $9 per gallon tax formerly imposed. Change in the law is expected to promote rapid expansion and improvement in whole fruit essence industry.

Red Tape Stays On

At a recent meeting of the government's Inter-departmental Committee on Foreign Travel a proposal to let foreign tourists and visitors come into the U. S. without the red tape of getting a visa was flatly turned down on the insistence of the State Department. This is in spite of the fact that most European countries now let U. S. citizens in for visits, without visas. The only concession the State Department would agree to was to stop charging a fee for U. S. visas.

Juggling the Fleet

Composition of U. S. Navy's active fleet will be changed somewhat during the next year. The 11 aircraft carriers will be reduced to eight. The 31 cruisers will be reduced to 18. The 150 destroyers will be increased to 170. The fleet of some 80 submarines will be kept at about the same strength. Two of the three carriers withdrawn from the active fleet will go to drydock, as announced recently by Defense Secretary Johnson. Their flight decks will be strengthened and their armament increased. The Navy hopes eventually to have 16 carriers of the reserve fleet modernized in this manner. Two years are required to complete each job. All changes proposed are based on experience with carriers in the last war.

Boyle Says Models Resent Canines on Magazines Covers

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—Everybody loves dogs—except cover girls.

Too many dogs are getting their faces on the front pages of magazines, thus cutting cover girls out of money.

In the foyer of a modeling school here is a billboard plastered with canine photos. It's a stern warning to the girls that if they don't keep their rates low and get to appointments on time—well, what should happen to a cover girl will happen to a dog. Rover will get their jobs.

Pioneer School

The school, the pioneer in the field, is run by Grace Downs who has trained or found positions for some 25,000 models.

Grace, a smiling, cheerful woman in the blonde forties, was among the first professional cover girls.

"Some people are nice enough to say I was the very first," she said. "I started back in 1921, when most of the magazine covers were painted by famous artists."

Coathangers Rare

"When I began," Grace recalled, "there were only a few ready-to-wear firms. Most women made their own clothes or bought them from dressmakers. When I was a young girl only people with a lot of money had coathangers. The rest used hooks.

"At first they used us only to model hats. Then they got more daring and put us in clothes."

She got $10 for one of her first cover jobs—for a millinery magazine. Today clothing models make from $40 to $75 a week, and they can stay years longer in this specialty than the glamor lasses who pose only for magazine covers.

Travelin' Wimmen

The last developments is one to give the traveling salesman gray hair—the models are becoming traveling saleswomen.

"I'm nothing but a clotheshorse," one girl complained to a manufacturer. "While I'm wearing your line, I might as well sell it."

He gave her the chance, and she proved she could do it. Now instead of accompanying traveling salesmen and merely serving as wooden mannequins, many girls go out alone. They both model and sell the garments.

"I don't know whether that's really good," laughed Miss Downs. "It's doing away with the salesmen. And, of course, they won't pay the model as much as they do a man—even though he's doing a double job. That's the penalty of being feminine."

Burglar Chased, Nabbed When He Loses His Pants

Washington—(AP)—A passerby spotted a man pounding away on the safe in a restaurant at 4 a.m. That was the beginning of a series of frustrations for the burglar.

When police arrived he scuttled for the rear exit—but couldn't find it. He climbed to a skylight and smashed his way to the roof—but the drop to the ground was too far.

He crawled into the bedroom of an adjoining apartment—but the occupant woke up and chased him downstairs. He crouched in a closet, where the officers found him. Then came the final blow.

When he stood up his pants fell down. They were weighted with $8.10 in small change sales tax collections stolen from the restaurant.

HARDEN WITH AGE

Until the antlers of a deer reach maturity, they are soft, spongy, warm, and full of blood. When they reach full growth, circulation ceases and the antlers become hard. The velvet covering then is shed and the deer becomes the owner of a polished pair of weapons.

Expert Tells Of His Game

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

While I believe Canasta is going to be most popular with the masses, I find many of our outstanding card players are also making a study of the game.

One of these is John Crawford, of Philadelphia, who is an expert on all types of card games. I am going to ask Mr. Crawford a question in each of my columns so he can show you the different techniques he uses in the game.

Question: Mr. Crawford, in playing four-handed Canasta will you explain to my readers some important points in partnership play?

Answer: Watch your partner's discards. Then take into consideration your left-hand opponent's discard to your partner. This will tell you what cards your partner does not want, when he refuses to pick them up. Also you can discard the same cards as your partner discards.

In other words, you should try to keep the same cards you think your partner has, and in this way you both are more apt to be saving the same cards. The above applies mostly when you and your partner need 120 points for your initial meld.

When you need 50 to 90 points for your initial meld the game is apt to proceed too quickly to develop your hand in any particular manner. Also, if you discard the same cards as your partner, they are apt to be used by your left-hand opponent. (Since your partner doesn't have it, your opponents probably have.)

Another important point to remember in four-handed Canasta is, if your side needs 120 meld and you do not have the jokers or wild cards, then it is up to you to play to protect your partner. In other words, one hand plays to meld 120 points while the other partner tries to build up his hand so that he will be able to play off his partner's hand.

In my next article Mr. Crawford will give you more of the fine points on Canasta. Now for my regular questions and answers:

Question: Is it wise to pick up small packs or should I wait for the pack to have 10 cards or more?

Answer: You should always take any pack if it is beneficial to you and your partner. Consider twice before turning down any pack of five cards or more.

Question: It seems fairly easy to get a concealed hand in four-handed Canasta. Is it good strategy to play for a concealed hand?

Answer: It certainly is not. In four-handed Canasta you should never try for a concealed hand. Not only will you very likely get caught with it, but you may be forcing your partner to wreck his hand, because you have refused to make the proper meld.

Question: If the pack is frozen and my right-hand opponent discards a card of which I have a natural pair in my hand, can I count this card in my initial meld?

In other words, I have two aces in my hand and the up-card is an ace, and I need 50 points for my initial meld. I know I can take the pack, but can I count this third ace to help me make my initial meld?

Answer: You most certainly can.

The up-card can be counted as part of your minimum meld if you wish, but no other card in the discard pile can be used for that purpose. After you have legally melded the up-card and picked up the pack, you can proceed to play

Library Hours: 10:00 to 9:00 daily except Sundays and holidays. Friday, Nov. 11 is a holiday, library will be closed.

Rogue's March, by Maristan Chapman. A fine historical novel about the American revolution in the South by the author of "The Happy Mountain."

The Plum Tree, by Mary Ellen Chase. A very short novel of three inmates and the two nurses in an old ladies' home. A quiet tenderness pervades the story with the achingly beautiful little plum tree in full bloom as the symbol.

The Conquerors, by Thomas B. Costain. The first volume of a series in The Pageant of England by the author of many historical novels. It deals with the years following the Battle of Hastings in 1066 and the complete conquest by the Normans. Using his novel technique Mr. Costain hopes to make history exciting.

Count the Ways, by Doris Miles Disney. Crime Club selection.

Experiment in Rebellion, by Clifford Dowdley. A history book with a heroine—the city of Richmond, Va.—and many heroes—the leaders of the Confederacy. It is a tragedy—the fall of Richmond and the collapse of the Confederacy.

The Lonely, by Paul Gallico. An American soldier chooses between the girl he left behind him and the one he met in England.

Mosaic in the Fountain, by Bertilla Harding. This author has written many colorful and interesting biographies and now she turns to writing of herself with the same result—a popular book.

Railroad Avenue, by Freeman H. Hubbard. "Great stories and legends of American railroading."

The Saracen's Head or The Reluctant Crusader, by Osbert Lancaster. A riotous laugh at the expense of heroes of the Crusades including Richard himself.

Celia Amberly, by Victoria Lincoln. Celia is a girl born to riches, brought up in an environment which has spoiled more than one character, but did not spoil Celia's; a direct contrast to the gutter level of the Harrises in "February Hill."

Distinguished Woman Writers, by Virginia Moore. Biographical and critical sketches of famous women writers including Madame de Sevigne, Sappho, Jane Austen, Saint Teresa, Emily Dickinson, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Ellen Wylie, Katherine Mansfield, and many others.

Autobiography of Will Rogers, ed. by Donald Day. The true story of the immortal Will told by himself.

Social Situations

SITUATION: When a guest in another's home you upset a glass of water at the dinner table.

WRONG WAY: Insist on getting up from the table and going into the kitchen to get something with which to wipe up the water.

RIGHT WAY: Offer to take care of the matter, but if the hostess insists, keep your place, apologize for the accident and thank the hostess for wiping it up.

RUTH MILLETT

Ruth Millett Offers Rules In Training New Husbands

You want your boy to be a good son. But have you ever thought whether or not you are bringing him up to be a good husband? Do you really care whether he is or not?

If you do want him to be a good husband some day these are all points for you to remember.

One. Don't wait on him hand and foot. As a mother you may enjoy catering to him, but you can be pretty sure his wife won't want to keep it up.

Two. See that he doesn't pick up a superior attitude toward women. Squelch him every time he starts low-rating women in general.

Three. Don't give him the idea that any girl who gets him is plenty lucky. He may get the idea, anyhow, but don't encourage him in it.

GIRLS TODAY AREN'T SO BAD EITHER

Four. Don't run down modern girls to him. Today's girls are every bit as worthwhile as today's young men—and chances are he'll get as good as he is.

Five. See that he picks up after himself. A man who tosses his clothes on the floor, leaves the bedroom looking as though a cyclone had struck, etc., isn't any woman's idea of a perfect husband.

Six. See that he knows how to talk to girls and women. The husband who won't talk to his wife is no bargain in any woman's mind.

Seven. See that he learns how to make small household repairs. It's as important for a husband to be a skilled handyman as for a wife to be a good cook.

Eight. Give him some idea of what it costs to run a home, what a woman's clothes cost, etc., so it won't all come as a complete surprise to him some day

Polo Eleven Dumps Rockton, 13-7

First Quarter Scores Bring Marcos Victory

Polo — (Special) — Coach Bob Breckenridge's Polo eleven scored one of its most notable victories of the season here last night as it dumped undefeated, untied Honnegan high of Rockton, 13-7.

Polo's great 1949 squad thus completed the season with a record of one defeat and can lay claim as being one of the top eleven in Northern Illinois "small school" football.

The Marcos converted two first quarter touchdowns to a victory. They drove 73 yards for their first score, with George Wilson passing 40 yards to Johnny Hackett for the marker. Ronnie Messer kicked the extra point.

Only minutes later, Ronnie Messer went over from the 15-yard line but missed the try for point. Then as Polo held to this 13-0 lead, Rockton rebounded in the third period for its lone touchdown. A seven-yard pass, Bob Zinnicker to Rod Wilson, provided the score. Zinnicker converted.

Amboy Irish Win on Bullard's Run, 13-7; Sterling Rallies For Victory; Rockets Triumph

Rochelle — (Special) — Coach Orval Spurlin's Amboy Irish ended their season on a high note of victory last night as they scored a 13-7 win over Rochelle high of the North Central conference.

The Amboys struck suddenly in the first and third quarters for the scores which meant victory. With only a minute and a half gone in the opening quarter, the Irish struck pay dirt. Rochelle taking the opening kick-off was downed on the two. A poor kick carried to the 26 from where Gene Carroll passed to Bob Wilson for the marker. Doug Smith converted.

After Buddy Cooper scored for Rochelle on a four-yard plunge in the second period to bring the half-time count to 7-6, the Irish struck again. Bullard set up the score when he went off the weak side 60 yards to the Rochelle 12. Then on a reverse he went over. A kick for the extra point was no good.

The win marked the second in a row for the Irish, who closed the season with two wins and six losses.

Grid Walkout At LaSalle; Team 'Pulled'

LaSalle, Ill., Nov. 5 — (AP) — Now comes a football walkout.

Coach Michael J. Dluhy ordered his Wilson Junior college team of Chicago off the field last night in a game with LaSalle-Peru-Oglesby Junior college in protest of a decision.

Observers said Dluhy had been "riding" the officials. Three minutes before half-time, he protested a pass play then ordered his players to the dressing room.

Officials awarded victory to LaSalle-Peru-Oglesby, which was leading 19-0 at the time.

Upwards of 3,000 L. P. O. homecoming fans were entertained by the school's marching band and then left for home after seeing less than half of a football game.

Naffziger Scores Twice, James, Santos Once Each; Duke Line in Top Showing; Fights Mar End

Geneseo — (Special) — Coach Sam Owens' Dixon Dukes climaxed their year of football revival here last night by tagging a 24-14 defeat on Coach Charlie Fuhr's Geneseo Maple Leafs. It was the sixth victory in eight starts for the Dixon high school eleven and only the third loss in eight tries for the Geneseoans.

Even the pros couldn't match the performance staged by these two elevens, both determined to end the 1949 campaign with a victory. The Dukes rolled up a net total of 354 yards from scrimmage while the losers chalked up 235 in the wildest exhibition the North Central conference has experienced this season.

Both squads, heavy on the senior side, threw their Sunday punch, literally and figuratively, in their attempt to carry home the victory. In fact the game caught fire in the final moments and ended in a near riot. Members of both teams went at each other in midfield with some of the spectators, coaches and officials, aiding or hindering, the return to orderly pursuits. Fortunately the game ended after one more play.

The Dukes won on rugged line play and a terrific ground game led by Gabriel Santos, Dick Kelley, Bill James and Gerry Wakeley all of whom were winding up their ball carrying careers. The Dixon line held the Geneseoans to 11 yards from scrimmage, forcing the hosts to the air for the fat end of their total yards.

Penalties, of which the Dukes absorbed 13, were a heavy contributing factor. They cost both squads a touchdown each, but the Dixonites, who were slapped with 10 15-yard assessments, and wound up with 165 yards lost by that method, were the most impeded.

A run down shows that the Dukes got tapped for four of the unnecessary roughness nature, two for clipping, two for holding, one for pass interference and another for illegal use of the hands. Geneseo's 25 yards in penalties included one for unnecessary roughness.

The Dukes marched 76 yards after the opening kick-off, yet failed to score. This march included Wakeley's trip around right end for 21 yards and a pass from Dick Kelley to Kenny Naffziger which carried the Dixon 43 to the Geneseo 18 where the Duke end stumbled and fell. He was good for the distance had he not tripped. James went off right end to the 11, but Dusing fumbled and Tom Duncan recovered for Geneseo on the eight.

Ernie Brink gave the Dukes another chance on the next play as he seized Duncan's fumble on the 10. Wakeley was stopped at right end but went to the 8 over center on the next play. Kelley's pass to Santos was incomplete and on fourth down Naffziger tried a goal which was low and short.

Bahnk's poor punt out shortly thereafter gave the Dukes their third chance in the quarter. The kick carried only to the Geneseo 34. Santos went to the 26 and James made it first down on the 24. Santos fumbled but recovered on the 22. Kelley drove over center to the eight and another first down.

On the next play, Dusing went over for a touchdown, but there was illegal use of hands, and the Dixonites were penalized to the 27. The attack then waned on the 22.

It had to come eventually and did after Peterson's punt went to the Dixon 38. Santos on a splendid run swept to the Geneseo 44. Dusing wheeled around left end to the 33 and Lafferty went four more on an end around. Santos assumed the burden again with a drive off left tackle to the 21 and a first down. Kelley and Wakeley moved it to the 14 and after Kelley's pass to Santos was incomplete, and Dusing had hit center to the 10, Santos rolled down the middle for the score. Naffziger's kick was wide.

A penalty robbed the Geneseo eleven of a score shortly after the next kick-off. They swept 40 yards to the Dixon 25 on the first play as Peterson passed to Hultgren who was skulking along the sidelines. He was hauled down on the 25. Then a screen pass, Munson to Duncan, gave the Maple Leafs a first down on the 11. Welden Hultgren then pounced to the 3. He went over on the next play but the backs were in motion. This sent it to the 8 and Dick Dusing recovered Duncan's fumble on the 6 at the half.

The second half really brought the fireworks. Big Wayne Peterson nearly got away in returning the kick-off to the Dixon 43 from his own 12. On the next play, Kenny Naffziger intercepted a pass in the deep flat and travelled 66 yards to a score. His kick for point hit the upright and Dixon led 12-0.

Coach Fuhr's lads struck back sharply. The kick-off went to the Geneseo 35. Then a pass, Peterson to Duncan, sent the Geneseo star away with James hauling him down on the Dixon 23. Don Sproul hauled Hultgren down for a loss on the 27 but was hurt on the play. Peterson passed to Duncan on the 16. There the Dukes were caught roughing. That made it an easy touch for Peterson, who went over from the 1. Duncan's kick for point was good.

In eight plays after the next kick-off the Dukes had their third score. Dusing nearly went the distance with the next kick-off, but was hauled down on the Geneseo 12 after a 42-yard return. James went up the middle to the 33 and Kelley made it first down on the 31. Then Santos sped off left tackle to the 22 and Kelley again made it first down on the 19. Santos moved to the 18 in two tries.

A pass Wakeley to Naffziger was incomplete, but it worked on the second try and Kenny scooted over for his second score. Naffziger's kick for point was blocked.

A Dixon drive, featured by Ray Flower's 28-yard sprint on the final play of the third period, and carrying to the 19 at the start of the fourth was halted because of holding penalty on the Geneseo 18. But the Dukes, aided by Bob Leonard's recovery of a fumbled pass, scored their fourth touchdown to clinch the engagement.

That came near the half-way mark from the Dixon 48. Kelley passed to Naffziger who was downed on the Geneseo 20. Bill James ran off his own right tackle for the distance leaving four tacklers in his wake. The kick for point was wide.

A screen pass, and a Dixon unnecessary roughness penalty gave Geneseo its second score late in the fourth. The pass, good for 24 yards went from Munson to Roger Kowitz who was thrown out on the 35. After two plays, Naffziger intercepted with Dwayne Blank's pass reception and it was first down for the Geneseoans on the 19.

A pass was incomplete, but the Dukes were roughing and that put it on the five for a Geneseo first down. A backfield in motion penalty moved it to the Geneseo none (correct) but on the fourth try, Peterson passed to Munson for the score. Peterson plunged for the point on a fake kick.

Desirable Location

Now is a good time to purchase a residential lot in the most desirable section of Dixon, the Assembly Park, a very restricted neighborhood. There will never be any stores or any business houses whatsoever in the park.

These are the only available, desirable river front lots, commanding a fine view of Rock River.

This area will contain the beautiful and modern homes of Dixon. A neighborhood means more to a family than anything else.

Owners of lots are well known professional and business men who expect to build beautiful homes as soon as building conditions permit. Prices on lots have not been raised during or since the war. If interested in the purchase of lots investigate now before the advance in price is announced. May we show you these fine lots. There are many beautiful, large shade trees which add greatly to the value of the property.

'United Europe' Hopes Stirred by Paris Meet Plans

Washington, Nov. 5—(AP)—Plans for a Paris meeting of American, British and French foreign ministers stirred U. S. hopes today for greater economic and political unity in Europe.
American officials said the two-day conference might put new life into the movement toward that goal, in view of Secretary of State Acheson's apparent conviction that such unity is urgently needed now.
As a part of this issue, Acheson is prepared to press for inclusion of the new Western German state in the European family of nations. He also is ready to discuss outstanding German issues—including the controversial plant dismantling program—in that light.
Acheson will fly to the French capital for the meeting with British Foreign Minister Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schumann. He hoped to be able to leave here Monday night with a small group of advisers and staff assistants. The exact date of the conference will depend on the time of his arrival in Paris.

DIDN'T BELIEVE IT

English art critics ridiculed the work of American landscape painters when the latter exhibited pictures showing the brilliant colors of American autumn. The Britons believed the colors to be pure imagination, since English foliage does not change to brilliant hues in the fall.

SMOOTH-RIDING TRACTOR SEAT—How to take the jerks and bumps out of tractor driving has plagued engineers for years. This new tractor seat with a pair of rubber torsional springs mounted underneath was developed by U. S. Rubber to solve the problem. The springs are the cylindrical objects mounted below the arrow. As the tractor rides over rough ground, these springs—rather than the rider—twist and turn with each jolt, cushioning the shock for the operator.

Association the day before, the Illinois Coal Operators Association said its members will not bargain separately; they will talk on a national basis only.
Lewis had proposed intensive negotiations starting today. Any tentative agreement reached, he said, could be placed before his 200-man policy committee in Chicago on Monday for ratification. The miners, he added, could be back at work on Tuesday.

Things Look Bright

The promising developments in Cleveland, scene of the Republic Steel negotiations, threw a brighter light on the steel strike scene. Some 450,000 CIO workers over the country have been idle for 36 years.
A morning meeting was scheduled between CIO President Murray and the steelworkers' negotiators headed by William F. Donovan, the union's district director, to discuss the Republic proposal.
Less favorable news came from elsewhere in Ohio.
Ten thousand workers of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. went on strike at midnight. They set up picket lines at five Timken plants—Canton, Wooster, Mount Vernon, Columbus and Zanesville, O.
The union sought Timken's acceptance of the Bethlehem-type contract, which Murray has declared to be the union's present demand throughout the industry.

Poloans Hear The President At Savanna

Polo—Among those from Polo who went to Savanna Thursday morning to hear President Truman give his rear platform talk from his special railroad car, enroute to St. Paul, Minn., were Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wilson and Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Scholl, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Raley, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Frey, Mrs. Mary Hackett, and Mary Anne, James and M. J. Naylor.

Guest Speaker
The Rev. Nightingale, Methodist minister from Mt. Morris, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Pine Creek Woman's club Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ralph Avey. Thirty five enjoyed a delicious scramble dinner at noon, followed by the business meeting and program. The Rev. Nightingale, who served as missionary in British Columbia, gave an account of his experiences with the Indians. Following the program the ladies packed boxes to be sent to the Navajo Missions.

Personals

Mrs. Walter Schmidt entertained the women of the Gleaners class of the Church of the Brethren at a sewing bee Thursday afternoon. There were 14 ladies and several children present. Mrs. Don Shaulis and David, Franklin Grove, were out of town guests.
Mrs. Ruth Forney left Friday for Waterloo, Iowa, where she will spend the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Dorsey Blough, and family. From there she will go to Arizona for the winter.
Approximately 20 members of the Signal Lights class of the Evangelical U. B. Sunday school enjoyed a scramble supper Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Webb.

Coal Shortage at Ottawa Is Serious

Ottawa, Ill., Nov. 5—(AP)—Ottawa residents have started burning wood in their furnaces and stoves as a substitute for coal.
One of the city's leading coal dealers, The Scherer Coal Co., opened a wood yard today. A tree service firm supplies the company with logs. Power saws at the yard cut the logs to proper lengths.
At the same time, several owners of timber land near Ottawa announced they would give free wood to anyone who would cut it and haul it away.
Mayor T. Bert Leamy sent a telegram to President Truman stating the fuel situation in Ottawa is "very serious." He said a great many homes are completely out of coal and that in many cases younger children are being kept in bed most of the day to keep warm.

Tax Ceiling Is About Reached, Douglas Says

Madison, Wis., Nov. 5—(AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas, Illinois democrat, said last night that "liberals have got in such a state that when anyone proposes spending their money their saliva flows."
He said America is close to the ceiling in the amount of taxes the federal government can collect.
The senator, who has been identified with the new deal wing of his party, has backed economy moves in congress.
He said more efficient administration of various departments could save more than one and a half billion dollars in our civilian budget. This saving, he asserted, could then be applied to extension of social security, health, housing and education benefits.
Sen. Douglas spoke at a symposium in honor of John B. Andres, former University of Wisconsin economist and former officer of The American Association for Labor Legislation.

British Navy Warns China It Will Aid Bombed Vessels

Hong Kong, Nov. 5—(AP)—The British navy "feels itself justified to take stern and decisive action" in aiding any merchant vessels that may be attacked by Chinese Nationalist aircraft, an authoritative source said today.
This naval source was commenting on the latest Nationalist warning to the British government that Nationalist planes intend to bomb merchant ships inside Chinese territorial waters.

Cargo Plane Crash Kills Three; Hint Weather Is Cause

Akron, O., Nov. 5—(AP)—A twin-engined cargo plane crashed in a woods on the edge of the Akron-Canton airport last night killing three Cleveland men.
The coroner began an investigation today to determine whether engine trouble or bad weather was responsible for the crash. The DC-3 was trying for an instrument landing in rain and snow at about 8:30 p.m. (CST) when the plane came down.
An official at the airport said the weather "more than likely" caused the crash. He said the ceiling was only about 600 feet at the time.

Joliet Declares Coal Emergency

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 5—(AP)—A state of emergency was declared in Joliet yesterday because of the coal strike.
The city council took this action after it decided with representatives of 22 Joliet coal dealers to ration coal. Before this, there was a voluntary program of a half ton to a customer.
Dealers figured that they have 1,200 tons of coal still on hand—enough to last two weeks at the most if the weather is mild. This is to satisfy the coal needs of 80,000 users.
Additional coal will be sought from Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railroad, and the Central Barge Line, they said.

Six Czechs Hanged For Conspiracy To Overthrow Reds

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 5—(AP)—Six Czechs convicted as ringleaders of an alleged armed plot to overthrow the Communist government, were hanged today. It was announced officially.
The men were accused of preparing to lead a coup last spring. The government charged that they were "just at the point of executing a well prepared revolt" when the police caught them.

Mt. Morris to Hear Talk on Reformation

Mt. Morris—The Forum committee of the Council of Churches has invited Dr. Joseph Sittler to speak at the Reformation program Nov. 6. This program will start at 7:30 p.m. in the Christian church.
At the present time Dr. Sittler is professor of Systematic Theology at the Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary in Maywood. Since 1933 Dr. Sittler has been an annual team member of the Federal Council of churches University Christian mission.
He has spoken at the Universities of Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Northwestern, and Chicago.
Before he joined the seminary staff Dr. Sittler was pastor of the Messiah Lutheran church in Cleveland Heights, Ohio. His graduate work was done in Oberlin School of Theology, Western Reserve University, Heidelberg University in Germany, and at the University of Chicago.

Mt. Morris Actor

The Yale University department of drama recently started its 1949-50 season by presenting a play written by one of the students. Appearing in the cast of the play was James Asp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Asp, Mt. Morris. Jim is in his first year. He was graduated from Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, Iowa. He is enrolled in the drama department and is classed as a first year directing student.

Book Week

Trustees of Mt. Morris library are again sponsoring a poster contest during Children's Book week, Nov. 13-19. The theme will be "Make Friends With Books." Prizes will be awarded to the boy and girl in each of the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades who enter winning posters. Posters should be presented at the library. After judging they will be on display.

Sisterhood to Meet

Chapter CU of the P.E.O. sisterhood will meet at the home of Mrs. Edwin Logan Tuesday evening, Nov. 8. The chapter will celebrate its 50th anniversary.

Club Will Meet

The Current Events club will meet with Mrs. Paul Barnhizer Tuesday, Nov. 8, at 2:30 p.m. The program "Biography of Henry Ford" will be given by Mrs. John Blakley.

of the issue started convention delegates speculating as to whether Murray now wanted to hang onto strong left-wing unions like Harry Bridge's longshoremen and Ben Gold's fur and leather workers.
Bridges, who emerged from the convention as the top spokesman for the left-wing in the labor movement—if not in the U. S. generally—will have his credentials examined closely by a committee of the executive board.
Bridges stuck around through the convention to answer every argument in which his west coast dock workers—and Hawaiian sugar, pineapple and longshore workers—were involved. That won the respect of many delegates bitterly opposed to his stand.

Marion Miners Ask Truce to Fill Own Bins

Marion, Ill., Nov. 5—(AP)—Nearly half of the striking diggers at one mine here appealed for a truce—to fill their own empty bins.
Alf Wallace of the Wallace Mining Company said that some of the idled United Mine Workers asked if they might go back into the mine to bring out enough coal for their home needs.
They were told it was all right with the company—if the union approved.
Wallace said the local UMW district board official, Ted Mitchell, gave the permission.
Wallace said about 50 men re-entered the mine last week and worked without pay for about three hours. The mine furnished the electrical power.
He said he didn't know how much coal the miners hoisted but that it was already in the rail cars just as it had been left when the strike began.
"We'll just let the men tell us how much coal they got," Wallace said. "They can pay for it when they return to work."

Flash Flood Leaves Many Homeless

Caracas, Venezuela, Nov. 5—(AP)—Homeless Venezuelans searched frantically today for members of their families missing since a flash flood swept through Caracas suburbs.

At least 20 persons were reported dead and authorities feared the toll from yesterday's flood might run much higher. The flood, the worst in Venezuela's capital in many years, caused damage estimated unofficially at $10,000,000.
It was Latin America's second major flood since Oct. 1. Heavy rains and floods in Guatemala during the first three weeks of October killed more than 500 persons and caused an estimated $50,000,000 of damage.

A six-hour downpour yesterday brought a sudden rush of water here from the usually tiny Guare river, which was swollen by several days of heavy rains.

Roaring flood water swept through the rude huts of hundreds of poor families living along the river banks. Radio patrol cars dashed along the river, warning dwellers on the banks to flee. Many of the hundreds left homeless said they thought the warning was a trick to dislodge them from their homes.

Horrified onlookers saw whole families bob by in the water, helpless amid the wreckage of their houses and furniture. Eye witnesses said they counted at least 80 men, women and children, struggling or unconscious in the flood waters. The floods spread also to El Paraiso, El Conde, and other fashionable Caracas suburbs. The waters washed away the foundations of five bridges. A number of commercial houses and storage garages near the river were flooded.
